Project Delivery at Sanergy

Sanergy designs, develops and implements low-cost, high-quality sanitation solutions that deliver value throughout the entire sanitation value chain (from collection to conversion). Karie leads the expansion team to expand Sanergy's safe, circular economy sanitation and organic waste management approach across Africa and beyond. Prior to transitioning into the world of sanitation and waste reuse, Karie developed strategic technology systems for IBM, PricewaterhouseCoopers and Australian financial institutions. Karie applies this previous experience designing and delivering successful large-scale technology transformation programs to now identify and implement novel solutions to deliver value from large-scale waste conversion. Karie holds a Bachelor of Commerce from the University of NSW, Australia.
